Hilary Sessions is the director of Child Protection Education of America, or C.P.E.A. The national, not-for-profit group gives free, digital photographs and fingerprints. Sessions say, "This is one way you'll have information for law enforcement if you child is ever missing."

Sessions says the prints and pictures should be updated every six months, and you're never to old to get them done.

C.P.E.A helped to buy a miniature A.T.V and miniature Chopper motorcycle. They are raffling off the cool rides. Tickets cost $2 a piece, and the raffle will be held at the Columbia County fair in mid-October. To buy a raffle ticket call, (352) 378-6757. Money raised will help the Florida Highway Patrol purchase similar digital photographing and fingerprinting machines.

A free fingerprinting site will be Buddy's Home Furnishings October 22, from 12pm - 4pm. The site is located at 1355 N.W. 23rd Avenue.
